THE RECTOR'S MESSAGE

A free translation of the passage is - Bring up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. The more accurate translation is - Brng up a child in the way he is bent and when he is old he will not depart from it.

As Twigs are Bent is our theme for the Message today.

It is agreed that the most precious gift entrusted to us by God is our children. From the day they are born, even before they are born, we work and plan and very often sacrifice for them. We make much ado about their physical needs even very often to the point of no return. That is we often do it at the expense of the more important things of life.

The most important thing about a child is his mind. It is said — "As a man thinketh so is he." And on this thesis he acts and lives and has his being.

As you and I look about us in the world in which we live, with all of its problems and especially that of juvenile delinquency, are we satisfied as parents with the kind of life we have expressed in our relationship with our children? There can be only one answer, and that answer is NO! Have we the right to expect of the school, the Church and Community to do the things we as parents should do and have left undone? The answer is obvious.

Where minds are crowded with things and not ideas it is easy for children to develope and idolorus concept of life. And we have done this to the point where most children are pagans as their parents are pagans.

Any attempt to educate your children apart from religious education must be futile. Religion is the center of ones life. It is the purpose of religion to relate the family to one another and to inspire every member with the idea of sharing.

"Bring up a child in the way he is bent"

Youth Emphasis Sunday

A MORE THAN HUMAN FELLOWSHIP

Youth make up a world wide fellowship of Christians of all the Churches, obedient to Jesus Christ and His ministry of reconciliation in a world of political social and racial tensions. They are a fellowship of members of all people concerned that the Church manifest the unity for which our Lord Jesus Christ prayed.

They are a community of prayer, worshipping the Holy Trinity, and sharing the life and mission of the Church.

BLESSED is the Kingdom of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost Now and forever, World without end. Amen
